ANNUAL IMPACT REPORT

20

THOUGHTS FROM OUR BOARD CHAIR AND CEO

As we reflect on our last fiscal year at United Way Quad Cities, the one word that comes to mind most often is impact.

Thank you for all the life-changing impact that your support made possible. Together, we strengthened access to education, income and health for nearly 75,000 Quad Citizens.

In the following pages, you will see shining examples of all that we can accomplish when we work together. We are proud of the way the Quad Cities, including our many partners, volunteers and talented staff, has stepped up and responded to our community's changing needs.

We have built unshakeable bonds that kept us united through working and living in the face of a global pandemic, an economic crisis and heightening awareness surrounding social issues like racism.

And, while we've made progress on our community priorities, we have more change ahead of us to get kids back on track in school, more students graduating high school prepared to succeed in career or college, more low-income families on pathways to realize economic mobility and more people living healthy, happy, productive lives.

Here's a snapshot of what you'll read in the pages ahead:

- Data that shows how impactful we've been together and how much has been accomplished, while simultaneously highlighting just how urgent this work is.
- Examples of how we're working across portfolios and with partners throughout our region to not just take challenges head on — but to address the systemic factors that drive academic achievement, economic mobility and good health.
- Highlights of successfully built partnerships and programs powered by donors, volunteers and advocates to address the ever-changing needs across our region — while also continuing to make progress toward our Rise United 2030 goals and commitment to advancing equity.

This Annual Impact Report celebrates the vast impact we can make through compassion and collaboration. While we have so much to be proud of, we have a way to go to build an equitable Quad Cities for all. We know our region has what it takes to get there because if the last few years showed us anything, it is together, we can achieve great things. Together, we can make the Quad Cities the best place for kids to grow up, families to plant roots and businesses to grow.

In gratitude and with hope,

AT UNITED WAY QUAD CITIES, OUR MISSION IS TO ENSURE ALL QUAD CITIZENS HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY AND ACCESS TO THRIVE.

We believe in the power of unity and equity to create lasting change. We work with supporters from labor, philanthropic, education, civic, corporate and nonprofit sectors, as well as the community as a whole, to create opportunity for all Quad Citizens. Our organization partners with and supports more than 50 local nonprofit service providers, mobilizing a community-wide movement that works to ensure all our neighbors have access to education, income and health — the building blocks of opportunity.

DRIVING LASTING CHANGE

We are steadfast in measuring our performance and impact so that we can learn what's working, and where we're most effective.

We help maximize the impact of your giving by focusing on three key areas: education, income and health — the building blocks of opportunity.

We create, lead and invest in programs that improve access and opportunity in these overlapping, interdependent areas.

Together with our community of supporters and partners, we work to ensure more of our students are graduating prepared for success in college or career, more local families are financially stable and more neighbors are living healthy lives.

By the numbers, our investments and programs had a direct impact on almost 75,000 Quad Citizens — nearly 25% of the population of Scott and Rock Island counties.

74,898 Quad Citizens have been directly impacted by our investments and programs.

► EDUCATION

33,132 Students

had the groundwork laid for continued educational success.

► INCOME

25,738 Quad Citizens

received assistance to get and keep better jobs and build savings for the future.

► HEALTH

16,028 Neighbors

got access to the health and wellness resources they need to live healthy lives.

OUR RISE UNITED 2030 GOALS

IN MAY 2021, WE LAUNCHED OUR RISE UNITED 2030 COMMUNITY GOALS

as a collective commitment and vision for a region where all Quad Citizens have the access and opportunity to thrive. These goals are our North Star for driving transformative change and advancing racial equity in education, income and health over the next 10 years:

INCREASE TO

the number of students reading on grade level by third grade.

INCREASE BY

the number of young adults earning living wages, adding $116M in wages per year to the economy.

INCREASE TO

the percent of of Quad Citizens reporting having routine health care.

AN EMPHASIS ON RACIAL EQUITY

Throughout our region, too many systems have created barriers to equitable access to education, income and health. We know that in order to drive transformative change in the Quad Cities, we must advance racial equity across our organization and community.

That's why we've conducted staff DEI training, launched community programs to raise awareness of opportunity gaps and elevated the voice of People of Color through our African American Leadership Society. We all have more work to do to help address inequities across our region and provide a platform for learning, leading, giving and advocating in ways that make the Quad Cities the best place for people to live, work and do business.

A few of our highlights:

- ✓ QCDEI Leadership Institute – 90 graduates
- ✓ 21-Day Equity Challenge – 3,500+ participants
- ✓ Equity Fund Investments in underserved areas – $275,000
- ✓ Equity Summit – empowered 300 community stakeholders to have a voice in making the Quad Cities stronger, safer and thriving.

WE STILL HAVE A LONG WAY TO GO.

COMMUNITY SCHOOL

Partnership Pilot

We know that education can change the world. Over the past year, our African American Leadership Society (AALS) has invested in the next generation through a community school partnership pilot with Madison Elementary School in Davenport.

The goals of this program are to capture the hearts and minds of these students with intentional, enhanced and coordinated academic, social and emotional health supports in the school setting.

The outcome for participating students has been improved behavioral and social abilities, and increased achievement and attendance.

EDUCATION

Education forms the foundation for a student's entire life, opening doors, broadening horizons and enabling children to thrive.

United Way Quad Cities creates, leads and invests in initiatives that strengthen early education, enrich out-of-school time and provide strong pathways to success after high school.

PROGRESS TOWARD OUR RISE UNITED 2030 GOALS

By encouraging skills like kindergarten readiness, early reading and language development, these and other programs are getting us closer to our goal of increasing the number of local students who read on grade level by third grade.

BORN LEARNING ACADEMIES IMPROVE KINDERGARTEN READINESS

Powered by our donor network, Women United, 191 parents and caregivers received the tools they need to support their child's development and school readiness through our virtual and in-person Born Learning Academies and Start Smart Quad Cities texts in the last year — 1,320 families since launched 10 years ago.

By investing in local community programs like this, we are helping parents to become their child's first, best teacher during crucial learning years before kindergarten.

READ UNITED

Launched in February 2022, with the support of presenting sponsors Group O, the Quad-City Times, and Quad City Area Realtors® Association, this partnership with Quad Cities school districts is designed to match adult volunteers with students for 30 minutes a week to encourage critical thinking, comprehension and reading proficiency after more than a year of pandemic-related learning disruption and limited in-person activities.

In the first half of 2022, a total of 548 students in pre-K through fourth grade participated in the program, which provided a total of 1,450 hours of reading tutoring. 92% of students who participated in Read United in the spring showed improved reading proficiency.

INVEST IN THE BEST

In the last year, we invested nearly $1.2 million in 31 carefully selected education-focused partners to give kids a strong start, quality out-of-school time and strong pathways through high school to college or career.

Your investment is giving more young Quad Citizens a better chance of reaching their dreams by supporting students through key milestones in their education journeys: kindergarten readiness, third grade reading proficiency and high school graduation.

350 CHILDREN

have shown improvement in early learning and pre-literacy skills, giving them a strong foothold in their journey of learning.

528 STUDENTS

maintained or improved their academic skills in reading and/or math over the summer months, putting them on track for academic success.

64 FUTURE CHANGEMAKERS

have further developed their job readiness skills, increasing their chances of success after high school.

4,274 STUDENTS

showed improvement in reading levels.

3,887 YOUTH

improved their self-esteem and outlook for the future.

2,047 STUDENTS

participated in career exploration and identified interest in specific fields.

Financial stability is a key ingredient of a steady, successful life.

INCOME

Stable income and sufficient savings lead to financial security, enabling families to plan for the future, build good credit and weather unexpected expenses. Together we are making it possible for Quad Citizens to get and keep better jobs, build their savings and hold on to more of what they earn.

PROGRESS TOWARD OUR RISE UNITED 2030 GOALS

By strengthening the local workforce, these and other programs are helping to get families back on their feet and closer to our goal of increasing by 20% the number of local young adults who earn a living wage.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

The success of the Quad Cities region is closely tied to the quality of its workforce and talent pipeline — from early child care through K-12 to higher education to a career. United Way Quad Cities fosters collaboration between the business community, educational institutions and workforce development organizations to identify and meet industry needs.

Over the last year, we've worked together to create more career pathways to shared prosperity for everyone. Our strategies include efforts that "raise the floor" and "build career ladders."

Raise-the-floor strategies support frontline or entry-level workers so they can maintain employment and be successful on the job. Career ladders enable frontline workers to access education and skills training more easily so they can move through the educational pipeline faster and achieve career advancement.

Our talent group met six times to explore strategies to promote job opportunities in the manufacturing, logistics and health care sectors and help adult education students enroll and complete technical training.

"A mother contacted us in desperate need of child care for her two children. She had recently been offered a job where she would make more money and had opportunity for future growth. But, she didn't have child care and, since she wasn't working yet, she didn't have the funds to enroll them. Thanks to United Way funding and support, we could offer a scholarship to the family. She took the job and is on her way to financial stability."

THANK YOU, VOLUNTEERS!

Did you know? Last year, through VITA alone, 104 volunteers gave back 5,522 hours to help their neighbors become more financially stable.

VOLUNTEER INCOME TAX ASSISTANCE (VITA)

United Way's VITA program provides free income tax preparation to people who make $57,000 or less. Service recipients include persons with disabilities and limited English-speaking taxpayers who need assistance in preparing their own tax returns.

Last year, thanks to the support of IH Mississippi Valley Credit Union, GreenState Credit Union and in partnership with AARP, our staff and IRS-certified volunteers provided free basic income tax preparation with electronic filing to 2,825 families and individuals, helping them receive the maximum refund possible to meet their own financial needs or save for the future.

INVEST IN THE BEST

In the last year, we invested $884,220 in 25 carefully selected income-focused partners to put more residents on stable career pathways, giving them the skills and resources to improve their economic mobility and provide them with basic necessities in emergency situations.

Your investment is empowering more Quad Citizens with the skills and tools to achieve financial stability.

488 INDIVIDUALS
secured a job.

82% RETAINED THE JOB
for at least 6 months.

207 INDIVIDUALS opened a new checking or savings account with the goal to save for the future for themselves and their families.

85,591 NIGHTS OF EMERGENCY SHELTER

were provided to individuals and families seeking a safe place to stay.

1,383 INDIVIDUALS AND FAMILIES
overcame barriers to achieving financial stability.

560 INDIVIDUALS AND FAMILIES
secured adequate housing and a stable roof over their heads.

152 INDIVIDUALS
enrolled in workforce training to become work ready.

HEALTH

Good health, a safe and stable home environment and quality health care are the foundation of a happy, thriving life. That's why we create, lead and invest in initiatives that teach and promote a healthy lifestyle, prevent family violence and improve access to health care.

PROGRESS TOWARD OUR RISE UNITED 2030 GOALS

By helping establish a foundation of good health, these and other programs are getting us closer to our goal of increasing to 95% the number of Quad Citizens with access to routine physical and mental health care.

COLLABORATION & PARTNERSHIPS

United Way Quad Cities actively supports and participates in two collaborative efforts working to improve health outcomes in the Quad Cities.

The first is the Quad Cities Behavioral Health Coalition, a partnership of 70 organizations collectively working together to provide outstanding, comprehensive and coordinated behavioral health services that are accessible to all Quad Citizens.

United Way is also a partner with the Quad Cities Health Initiative. QCHI is a community initiative working toward improving the health of residents in the Quad Cities region. It consists of more than 300 members of local health departments, providers, insurers, social service agencies, educators, businesses, media, law enforcement, foundations and governments.

100% of youth and adults participating in a United Way-funded mental health or substance abuse treatment program successfully completed their program.

INVEST IN THE BEST

In the last year, we invested $884,219 in 19 carefully vetted health-focused partners to promote healthy living, provide increased access to health care and empower our community to increase control over their physical and mental health.

Your investment is providing more access to physical and mental health services and support so Quad Citizens live healthy, happy and productive lives.

3,065 QUAD CITIZENS reported improved mental health.

1,980 ABUSE SURVIVORS
increased their knowledge and ability to plan for their safety.

2,471
individuals improved their eating and physical activity to live a healthier life.

100% of funding decided by local people.

The funds raised by our United Way are invested in local programs to solve the very real challenges that people face in our community. That's why real people just like you help determine how those dollars are invested. Thank you to our volunteers.

SOCIAL INNOVATION:

the process of developing and implementing new, effective solutions to solve social or environmental issues. It's how we can continue to find new ways of meeting our community's needs.

LEADING THE WAY

Social innovation has become a bigger part of our work at United Way Quad Cities. We partnered with organizations and social entrepreneurs to address our region's most pressing issues with mentorship, innovative thinking and foundational support.

TOGETHER FOR TOMORROW ACCELERATOR in collaboration with Women United

12 local grassroots organizations and nonprofits completed the eight-week social innovation accelerator program which provided social impact leaders with critical support and resources to identify innovative, collaborative approaches to accelerate their efforts to improve third grade reading proficiency in the Quad Cities. The cohort culminated with "The Pitch" – a Shark Tank-like event where $100,000 was awarded to four "solutions" to help Together For Tomorrow participants implement their innovation.

$100,000 IN SEED FUNDING

invested through the program and culminating competition, "The Pitch."

This program was supported by Women United and the Regional Development Authority.

54 HOURS

of mentoring and coaching provided to participants.

BUILDING BRIDGES

Presented by our African American Leadership Society

During this three-month accelerator program, nine local Black nonprofit grassroots leaders participated in networking and professional development sessions. They also met with local experts to learn nonprofit operations principles, understand community dynamics and explore best practices for funding opportunities.

AALS INSPIRES ACTION

The Ty Lewis Scholarship Program is a 10-month paid internship program that puts students on a fast track to success. The program provides financial support to attend St. Ambrose University, part-time employment during the school year, mentorship and a guaranteed career with Quad City Bank & Trust.

Meet Ty Lewis – the first graduate of the program.

Ty graduated with magna cum laude honors from St. Ambrose University in 2022. He successfully earned a Bachelor of Arts in Finance, and graduated debt free. During his time at St. Ambrose, Ty dedicated much of his free time to extracurricular enrichment, serving as the President of the Finance Club, VP of the Sales Club, Treasurer of the Black Student Union, Senior Senator for the Student Government Association and Ambassador for the College of Business. He is now utilizing his talents as a member of the United Way Quad Cities' Board of Directors, and will go on to complete manager training at Quad City Bank & Trust to become a Credit Analyst in October.

The Ty Lewis Scholarship program is continuing to expand, and has recently added a second participant who will reap the immeasurable and lasting benefits of the mentorship, financial support and career preparation that this program provides. This program puts real opportunity in the hands of those who face systemic barriers in making their dreams come true.

Thank you to Quad City Bank & Trust.
