

LABOR UNITED

Organized labor and United Way:
Real people rolling up their sleeves to build a brighter future.

Labor and United Way go way back. Since World War II, we've partnered on ways to improve the lives of working QC families and assist workers in times of need. Our partnership has only gotten stronger with time.

United Way Quad Cities and the AFL-CIO share a vision for an equitable, inclusive, healthy and happy community.

LABOR CARES

QC union members generously invest their time, skills and money to make a lasting difference in their community. With labor leaders on our Board of Directors, Executive Committee, Impact Council, Community Impact Panels and United Way volunteer projects, we work together so more of our neighbors can reach their potential.

STRONGER TOGETHER

The AFL-CIO United Way partnership gives union members with the opportunity to shape the Quad Cities through donating, volunteering and advocating while providing a direct link to information for those in need to health and human services.

LOCAL IMPACT

Together, we can build a better community. We work hard, use data-driven decisions aimed at root causes to get kids back on track in school, enable more adults to achieve gainful employment and financial stability and give people the tools to live happy, healthy and productive lives.
